

The saints at Christ the King Church (CTKC) in the Eugene/Springfield area of Oregon are seeking a full-time pastor with gifts in nurturing and shepherding a flock, and experience in preaching God's Word from a Reformed perspective. This opportunity is for a full-time position, fully funded by the church.

CTKC has been a member of the CREC (Communion of Reformed Evangelical Churches) since 2003. We are a financially stable congregation of just under 20 households composed of about 50 people ranging in age from infant to grandparent.

We celebrate each Lord's Day in a family-integrated worship service, including communion; a time for fellowship follows. We share a church meal once a month with four of these meals designated as celebrations in remembrance of church holidays. Each week also holds other opportunities for fellowship and teaching throughout the year. We emphasize the value of a God-centered education for our children.

The man we seek should integrate with who we are and work well alongside our two elders and two deacons. We have a desire to create a presence within our area, primarily by working alongside local and international ministries, and we are committed to supporting sister churches in Eastern Europe.

The Eugene/Springfield area is home to about 350,000 souls, and a quintessential example of Pacific Northwest nature and culture. Our temperate climate is perfect for experiencing the outdoors, with beach and mountains all in close proximity. Our families love being near a multitude of great parks, beautiful hikes, independent coffee roasters, craft breweries and wineries.

If you feel this opportunity fits well with who you are, and you'd like to serve with us in this member of the Lord's Body, then please email a resume with a cover letter introducing yourself to:
